

Belkin Tablet Stage

Engage your class. Put your lessons on Stage.

The Belkin Tablet Stage turns your tablet into an interactive presentation tool for the classroom.

Integrating an interactive whiteboard, a document camera, and a computer with your lesson plans can be costly and complex, requiring extensive training and technical support.

The Belkin Tablet Stage is designed for the way you want to teach—a self-contained hardware solution that supports a more flexible tablet-based curriculum, giving you the freedom to prepare and then present lessons from the same mobile device.

An adjustable mount holds your tablet securely above a staging area, where the tablet's camera can focus on a textbook, worksheet, photo, or any other subject for class discussion. Connect a projector, TV, or monitor to share images and video with students in real time. The stage is illuminated by an adjustable LED light, and integrated cable management keeps cords conveniently out of the way.

The Tablet Stage is part of a portfolio of education solutions from Belkin designed to enrich student and educator experiences with technology in the modern classroom.
